THE JOHN MORGAN RAID

Martial Law Declared in Cincin nati--Morgan's Movements And Those Made Against Him.

The following is General Burnside's or HEADQUETERS DEPARTMENT OF THE)

Onto, July 13, 1863.

General Order No. ---Martial Law is horeby declared in the cities of Cincinnati, Covington and Newport. All business will be suspended until further orders and all citizens will be required to organize in accordance with she directions of the State and municipal authorities. The commanding Jeneral convinced that no one whose services are necessary for the defense of these cities, would care to leave now, places no restriction upon travel.

By command of Major-Joneral A. E Burnside. LEWIS RICHMOND, Besistant Adjt.-General. Official:

D. R. LARNED. Captain and Ass,t Adjt.-Gen [The following particulars regarding the forgan raid are from the Cincinnati Ga-

On Saturday Morgan moved up to Veron, and yesterday a part of his force ame on to Versailles, where they were inpresed to be last evening. A special train was sent out on the Ohio and Mississippi Road yesterday, under the charge of Superintendent Lewis, with troops to protect the bridges of the road. This train went as far as Vernon, as we learn by dispatches from Mr. Lewis, received via Indinapolis, which place Mr. Lowis reached last evening. The report that Mr. Lewis with the companies of the 115th Ohio sent out to guard the bridges were gobbled up and parolled, is not correct. A squd of one hundred or more rebels, supposed to be skirmishers of Morgan's command, came in at Osgood after the special train, on which Mr. Lowis was, passed, and they destroyed three or four bridges, one of them a structure one hundred feet in length. They also destroyed a number of freight cars and other property of the Company.

Some of Morgan's skirmishers were also reported last evening to have been seen near Sunman's, on the Indianapolis Cincinnati Bailroad, and a regiment of our forces that had arrived from Indianspolis was sent out to look after them; It is still the opinion of the military authorities that Morgan will endeavor to effeet his escape by swimming his horses

It was thought, when the report came that Morgan was moving toward Moure's Hill, that he had abandoned his intention of crossing the Ohio below Lawrenceburg, and would attempt to pass around the city, and preparations were at once made to defend the line of the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Railroad. What those preparations are we of course have an -lab.

across the Ohio at Belleview or near Au-

As it is known that morgan was still in the neighborhood of Versailles, it is supposed that he will either try to cross the river in a body if he can find some point unprotected, or disband his men and order them to take care of themselves. Active preparations were in progress yesterday by General Burnside, looking to the capture of Morgan, which we have no right to allude to, but which are, it is supposed, sufficient to defeat or capture his band. A dispatch was received at Headquarters last evening from Louisville, stating that fight had taken place between General

Hobson's cavalry and mounted infantry, and Morgan's forces near Salem, but no credit is placed upon the dispatch by the military authorities, for it is known that Morgan was last evening near Versailles. All navigation on the river, excepting unboats and armed transports, was stopped on Saturday. The gunboats have been looking after steamers and flat-boats and removing them out of the reach of Morgan and his men.

ITo the Cincinriati Gazette. I

W ASHINGTON, July 12. Gen. Meade's forces are compact, the line being loss thar, two miles in length. It is believed that the rebel's strength is nearly 60,000, and, that a battle may take place at any mornent. So far as can be ascertained to-day both armies are lying quiet and in close proximity. A violent rain storm this P. M. has kept the Potemac from falling. It looks like further

The rebel wounded are to be sent to Point Lookout as well as to Chester and Davis Island. Those on the field admit that the defeat was a terrible one, and many of them, particularly those from North Carolina, express a desire to be out of the service. Such is the testimony of Senator Wilkinson.

General Sickles is pronundeed out of General McDowell is here, having finished his business in the West, and is now

The most hearible and beastly entrages have been perpetrated.

Some 12 or 13 policemen have been so brutally treated that their recovery is also hopeless and no doubt exists as to the death of Supermitendent Kenisesty. About 5 o'clock the mob had moved further down town when the firemen went to work on the burning buildings on Third Avenue. One house was entracted where a lary had just been confined. A number of attrice were stolen, but no violence was perpetrated.

At 20 clock Mr. Howard, intently editor of the Ken York Times, was attacked by the mob. Here's an abolitonial! and were about to hang him to a lamp post, when the mob a sten-

HARMING.

HARMINGAR, July 13.

The American has the following specials, daied Hagerstown, July 12h:
Early this morning it was discovered the releast has fallen tack from Funkstown.
A recomposance from our right wing was thrown out and discovered that the releast had suthdrawn their left toward the river and had formed a line of battle in a seminirele, corring Williamsport.

Kipatrick's cavalry pushed forward and excepted Hagerstown.

Our whole right wing was immediately put in motion and swept around in the line of the releast tetras. We entered Funkstown one hour after the robust left. They had furnised the bridge over the Antenan, at Punkstown, but abandoned it without a contest. Strong rife

Ewell.

The position of the rebels is new reduced to a space of six unless by sine in which to recommister. The rebels have no maturally strong defensive points left to them and it is believed by persons in efficial position, that they cannot possibly escape expiture or annihilation.

The report that a large number of rebels had crossed the Potomas with their wagns train, is believed to be entirely false, as there is nothing to cross the river with excepts appeared to the control of the manness of the control of the morning by General Elipatrick's davalry after a slight resistants. The object of the emeny's re-occupying the town in so what a space of time is partially explained from the fact that they removed from the veinity large amounts of time is partially explained from the town of Wilmanisport and Glear Spring Roads.

Reconnellmenters made to day by the cavalry forces, under Colonel Washoop and Captain Beyd, show that the robels have a targe force near the town of Wilmanisport and Glear Spring Roads.

The robets have a large force near the town of Wilmanisport and Glear Spring Roads.
